introduction

This Directory has been developed by NHS Education for Scotland (NES) on behalf of the Scottish Executive Health Department Autism Reference Group, and is the first part in a series of resources for practitioners and the public in relation to Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD).

This publication serves two purposes:

- To link the various professionals involved in the assessment and diagnosis of ASD.
- To inform primary care health professionals across Scotland where individuals can be referred for a diagnosis of ASD.

The Directory contains details of where diagnosis of ASD takes place. It covers both Children's Services (children age 0-16 years (or 18 years if attending school)) and Adult Services (individuals from age 16 years upwards (if no longer attending school)).

The Directory will be circulated to all GP practices in Scotland. There will be a limited number of additional Directories available after the initial distribution (see inside back page). An edited version of the Directory (without individual email addresses) will be available Scottish Autism Service Network (www.scottishautismnetwork@strath.ac.uk) in summer 2006. Please note that NES does not intend to update the Directory. The longer term sustainability of this publication is currently being investigated.

Whilst every effort has been made to ensure this Directory is as comprehensive as possible, based on information collated in early 2005, it is anticipated that there may be omissions.

Charter for Persons with Autism

People with autism should share the same rights and privileges enjoyed by all of the European population where such are appropriate and in the best interests of the person with autism.

These rights should be enhanced, protected, and enforced by appropriate legislation in each state.

The United Nations declaration on the Rights of Mentally Retarded Persons (1971) and the Rights of Handicapped Persons (1975) and other relevant declarations on Human rights should be considered and in particular, for people with autism the following should be included.

The Charter

1. THE RIGHT of people with autism to live independent and full lives to the limit of their potential;
2. THE RIGHT of people with autism to an accessible, unbiased and accurate clinical diagnosis and assessment;
3. THE RIGHT of people with autism to accessible and appropriate education;
4. THE RIGHT of people with autism (and their representatives) to be involved in all decisions affecting their future; the wishes of the individual must be, as far as possible, ascertained and respected;
5. THE RIGHT of people with autism to accessible and suitable housing;
6. THE RIGHT of people with autism to the equipment, assistance and support services necessary to live a fully productive life with dignity and independence;
7. THE RIGHT of people with autism to an income or wage sufficient to provide adequate food, clothing, accommodation and the other necessities of life;
8. THE RIGHT of people with autism to participate, as far as possible, in the development and management of services provided for their wellbeing;
9. THE RIGHT of people with autism to appropriate counselling and care for their physical, mental and spiritual health; this includes the provision of appropriate treatment and medication administered in the best interest of the individual with all protective measures taken;

10. THE RIGHT of people with autism to meaningful employment and vocational training without discrimination or stereotype; training and employment should have regard to the ability and choice of the individual;
11. THE RIGHT of people with autism to accessible transport and freedom of movement;
12. THE RIGHT of people with autism to participate in and benefit from culture, entertainment, recreation and sport;
13. THE RIGHT of people with autism of equal access to and use of all facilities, services and activities in the community;
14. THE RIGHT of people with autism to sexual and other relationships, including marriage, without exploitation or coercion;
15. THE RIGHT of people with autism (and their representatives) to legal representation and assistance and to the full protection of all legal rights;
16. THE RIGHT of people with autism to freedom from fear or threat of unwarranted incarceration in psychiatric hospitals or any other restrictive institution;
17. THE RIGHT of people with autism to freedom from abusive physical treatment or neglect;
18. THE RIGHT of people with autism to freedom from pharmacological abuse or misuse;
19. THE RIGHT of access of people with autism (and their representatives) to all information contained in their personal, medical, psychological, psychiatric and educational records.
