

Please note this event is for autistic people only (other events to follow)

Gendering Autism

WHAT ~ An opportunity for autistic people to participate in shaping research by getting together to share ideas, opinions and experiences in the area of Gendering Autism

Come and tell us what you think about how gender and autism intersect in identities

- How does gender change experiences of diagnosis or access to autism services and supports?
- Is autism really a gender issue?

WHO ~ Kabie Brook, Anna Robinson, Yvette Taylor & Richard Mills would like to invite you to...

Join our day long (10am – 3pm) research conference exploring Gendering Autism at the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow

OR connect with us virtually from anywhere as our conference will be live-streamed

WHERE ~ University of Strathclyde, School of Education, Technology & Innovation Centre, <https://www.strath.ac.uk/campustour/tic.html>

OR connect with us virtually via a chat room

WHEN ~ 12th February 2018

- ❖ Register your interest first with Kabie Brook at kb@arghighland.co.uk

We'll follow this up by sending you information updates of this exciting new research conference

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A RESEARCHER ~ JUST INTERESTED IN SHARING YOUR VIEWS ON GENDER, AUTISM AND IDENTITY

THE JOHN AND LORNA WING FOUNDATION
supporting autism research